Need Extra Seat For The Petticoats

By Lee Ann Urban

A multitude of petticoats can create a heap of problems, even for the male of the species.

Consider the weary bread winner enroute home on a not so crowded bus. He still can't find a seat.

Why? Those bloomin' petticoats, that's why.

But let him tell you: No Room To Sit

"When you have to stand up on the bus these days, it's not because it's crowded - it's because those young ladies with four or five petticoats take up double space."

Well, that's just one man's opin-

The girls feel differently about the under garments, in fact the junior high and high school set is downright enthuthiastic about the stiff petticoats.

The idea is to put on as many as possible. The more material in her skirt the better, because the more it flares.

There's a limit to the number that can be worn, of course. If you can't walk, you've got too many on. That's the acid test.

The stiff petticoats make sitting down an art. The wearer has to sort of back up to a chair and slide in. It's best to have both hands free so she can keep the skirts from rising above her head.

But whatever disadvantages the petticoats have, the girls are highly in favor of them.

They Like 'em

Doris Burks, 127 N. Ohio, who is an 8th grader at Lincoln school. says she likes to wear the petticoats because they make skirts look better. She usually wears three or four.

"I think the boys like them," Carol Sloan, 1024 E. Iron, said. She also is an 8th grader at Lincoln and wears four of the stiff

Many of the girls prefer stiff nylon, horsehair or crinoline for the material in their petticoats. Wire hoops aren't popular except in petticoats that are to be worn with formals:
